RUSSIAN LEADER LENINE DEAD

HEART TROUBLE FATAL TO HEAD OF COMMUNISM

Spectacular Figure Dies
Monday Night at Country Home

Moscow, Jan. 22.—Official announcement was made today that Nikolai Lenine, president of the Council of People's Commissaries, (the Russian red government), is dead. He died last night at his country estate with his wife, at the bedside. Lenine had been sinking for some time, owing to heart weakness induced by paralysis of the side.

As soon as news of Lenine's death was circulated here, flags were placed at halfmast upon all the government buildings and upon many private houses.

The Soviet cabinet conferred upon plans for the funeral, which will be held Saturday.

The greatest public demonstration of sorrow Russia has ever known in her history is anticipated. The body will be brought here (according to present plans) to rest in state at the Kremlin before it is interred in Red square, where the body of John Reed, American writer and socialist lies buried.

London, Jan. 22.—Nikolai Lenine, founder of the Russian soviet government, expounder of communism and the most spectacular figure in European statecraft since Napoleon Bonaparte, is dead at the age of 53, according to word reaching here today. He had been ill for two years of heart trouble and partial paralysis.

Lenine was the real power behind the Moscow government. His powers were even more dictatorial than those of the autocratic czars that ruled before he came into authority as head of the Russian government in November 1917.

Lenine's death came at a time when his colleague, Leon Trotsky, as spectacular a revolutionary figure as himself, was ill and at war with the central executive committee of the Communist Party. Disease and death thus removes from the arena two of the most active figures that set the red flag flying over Russia.

Specialists had been summoned from Germany from time to time. They succeeded in prolonging Lenine's life but could not save it. During most of the time he was ill he lived in a modest villa on his country estate outside of Moscow attended daily by his wife.

Members of the Peoples' Council of Commissaries (the government of the Federal Soviet Party) visited him at intervals for counsel. Sick or well, Lenine remained the idol of the Russian Communist.

At the last meeting of the executives of the all-Russian Communist Party, which ended only last week, a resolution was adopted that Russian youths should be compelled to study the political teachings of Lenine as the basis for the future government of Russia.

While Lenine's influence was felt throughout the entire world, he has always remained more or less of an obscure figure. So long as he could rule and wield power he was content to remain in the background and allow the lesser lights to occupy the limelight.

It had long been reported that Lenine would be succeeded by a triumvirate.

SAYS LAW BEING ENFORCED NOW

Columbus, O., Jan. 22.—Opposing the calling of a special Grand Jury at Steubenville, and expressing belief that Jefferson County and Steubenville authorities are doing all they can now to enforce the law, Attorney General Crabbe today submitted to Governor Donahay a report covering the recent investigation by Attorney Sherman Deaton, Urbana, special representative of the attorney general at Steubenville, into charges alleging laxity of law enforcement.

"I am satisfied that in the past a proper effort has not been made to enforce the law, and I believe that a more rigid policy with reference to law enforcement will prevent a repetition of such crimes as have been investigated," the attorney said.

LABOR PARTY IS IN CONTROL OF GREAT BRITAIN

Baldwin Is Succeeded By MacDonald As Premier

London, Jan. 22.—Premier Stanley Baldwin, chief of the Tory government of Great Britain for nearly eight months, resigned today after the House of Commons had adopted a resolution last night expressing lack of confidence in his cabinet. The Labor Party was summoned into power for the first time in English history.

After Baldwin had visited Buckingham Palace, where he tendered the resignation of his government, J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor Party and chief of the opposition in the House of Commons, was invited to the palace to receive the designation of premier.

MacDonald readily accepted the post, knowing in advance that the honor would be his. Labor comes into power at a time when the entire nation is torn with labor strife, the railway locomotive engineers and firemen and some of the coal miners being on strike.

MacDonald's followers said he would set his face at once toward settling these disputes.

Many of the Liberals voted for the Laborite resolution of "no confidence," the result being 328 in favor of it and 256 in opposition.

The final meeting of the old cabinet was held this morning just before Baldwin visited the palace to hand in the resignation of himself and his colleagues.

The House of Commons met this afternoon with Premier-Designate MacDonald in power. However, he had not completed the formation of his new labor government, so it was anticipated that adjournment would be taken for a few weeks to enable the Laborites to formulate not only their government but their policies upon home and foreign questions.

Great Britain realizes that the whole world is watching the experiment being made here. While the dominant party is officially dominated by Laborites, many of the newspapers call them Socialists.

Premier-Designate MacDonald said he hoped to present his new cabinet to King George tomorrow.

It was understood that Lord Haldane has definitely accepted the post of Lord Chancellor.

Lord Parmoor will become president of the council, a post formerly held by Earl Balfour.

Philip Snowden is expected to accept the post of chancellor of the exchequer.

Arthur Henderson is slated for home secretary.

MacDonald and his Laborite colleagues united in assuring the press that nothing radical would be attempted. "The country can trust us," declared the premier-designate. "There is nothing to fear. We realize our responsibilities."

WATCHMAN SLUGGED

A Hamilton, O., Jan. 22.—A 10-year-old boy slugged, handcuffed and threatened to burn John Egge, watchman, blew the safe and secured more than $3,000 in money, bonds and checks at the Strauss department store. The janitor found Egge tied to a radiator in the store.

Bok Makes Another Offer of $100,000 To U. S. Senate

Washington, Jan. 22.—Edward W. Bok, originator and promoter of the $100,000 peace plan project, came back at his senatorial inquisitors today with a startling offer.

In a letter to Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, Bok offered to turn over to the Senate investigating committee all of the 22,164 peace plans submitted in the recent contest, and allow the senators to select the plan which they believed to be the best. And Bok agreed to pay to the winner they selected the sum of $100,000—the same amount he offered for the previous plan.

"I will also agree to defray the expenses of a nationwide referendum, if desired, and in all respects give the plan which your committee selects the same financial support accorded by me to the present plan," said Bok.

Bok's sensational offer was contained in a letter in which he defended his refusal to tell the senatorial committee how much money he was spending to circulate and promote his peace plan project.

"I do not know definitely the amount spent or to be spent in the conduct of the award," said Bok. "You must realize that, as a matter of ordinary good taste, I ought not to be placed in the position of discussing the amount of money I am spending in a service I have undertaken on behalf of the American people. I am strengthened in my belief that you have no right to enter into my personal affairs. However, if you still differ with me on this point, and if the law gives you the right which you claim, there is no reason why you should not seek this from those who can give you the definite information which I do not possess. Mr. Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr. is treasurer of the award and the Girard Trust Company of Philadelphia is the custodian of the fund at their disposal for the purpose of the award."

"From the question asked by some of the members of your committee, it was strongly intimated that I was pre-disposed in favor of a particular kind of plan. It was likewise suggested that the jury of award was also selected with the same predisposition."

Observers go in the French move an indication of Premier Poincare's future attitude toward the Labor government in England, and do not believe that the rupture can be long postponed.

Paris, Jan. 22.—As a virtual reprisal for the British refusal to allow Franco-Belgian military trains free access to the Cologne zone, occupied by British forces, the French have established a practical blockade of Cologne. The blockade is officially justified by France as being "regrettable necessary owing to the disorganization of the railroads."

In spite of the immediate and urgent protest by Britain, the blockade menaces the city of Cologne with starvation, as well as cutting off supplies for the British troops. It is said, it is understood that France is determined to maintain the policy of interference with traffic.

Observers go in the French move an indication of Premier Poincare's future attitude toward the Labor government in England, and do not believe that the rupture can be long postponed.

John Nooks, 21, colored, was fined $1,000 and costs on a charge of possessing liquor by Judge E. D. Smith in Police court Tuesday morning.

Nooks was arrested Monday afternoon by Patrolman Charles Simms and Ellsworth Weaklin, janitor at City Hall, and a gallon of corn liquor he was carrying, was confiscated.

Chief of Police M. E. Graham received a tip Nooks had alighted from a bus from Dayton at Dayton Ave. He sent Patrolman Simms and Weaklin west on Market St., where they met Nooks near the McKinley school building.

Nooks will be taken to the County Jail to serve out the fine at the rate of 60 cents a day. If he serves out the full amount he will be in jail about five years.

CONVICTED CHINESE MURDERERS
FIRST TO BE EXECUTED BY GAS

Reno, Nev., Jan. 22.—Two air-tight death cells were under construction in the Nevada State Penitentiary yard at Carson City, today in preparation for the first lethal gas execution in the United States.

Two Chinese, Gee Jon and Hughie Sing, convicted of murdering a countryman two years ago will, on February 8, inhale gas with the scent of bitter almonds and will pass into oblivion within ten seconds, according to experts planning the execution.

The agent of death will be Hydrocyanic gas, commercially known as cyanogen. It is invisible, lighter than air, paralyzes the respiratory organs, displaces oxygen in the body and causes instant and supposedly painless death, after on deep breath.

The paralyzation of respiratory organs prevents even an outcry from the victim.

The gas will be piped from metal cylinder to the floors of the airtight cells. Each cell has glass observation windows. The gas will spread to all parts of the cell rapidly, rise to the ceiling and become exhausted through a pipe sufficiently high to avoid danger to witnesses.

Three cylinders of gas and two of compressed air will be used.

At the signal of Warden Denver S. Dickerson, five guards will open the respective valves each with the option of believing his tank contains the harmless compressed air instead of the death gas. The hour of the execution remains to be set by Warden Dickerson.

Gee Jon, an elderly Chinese tong gunman, looks forward to death behind a wrinkled, yellow mask of oriental indifference.

Hughie Sing, a boy of 19, Nevada born and educated, and a student in the Carson high school when called upon to do the bidding of his tong, while trying to hide his emotion, does not look upon his forthcoming execution with the stolid calm of the older man.

Only action by the state pardon board can now prevent the execution, as every legal remedy has been used by the defense counsel.

WAGNER'S SON AND WIDOW ACCUSED.

Siegfried and Frau Cosima Wagner.

Frau Cosima Wagner, widow of the great German composer, and her son, Siegfried Wagner, are charged in Munich with having diverted funds collected for musical purposes to the aid of the German "Kultur" movement. The money was collected all over the world, particularly in America, to support a Wagner plan for a festival at Bayreuth. Mail addressed to General Ludendorff, head of the royalist plot, was opened and hundreds of dollars, said to have been from the Wagners, was

SPECIAL COACH TO CARRY REMUS AND OTHERS TO PRISON

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 22.—Arrangements were completed with the Southern Railway today for a special coach to take George Remus and twelve associates, convicted of violating the prohibition laws, to Atlanta Penitentiary next Thursday to serve their various terms.

Remus, alleged head of the so-called "whiskey ring" and the others were sentenced by U. S. District Judge John W. Peck in May 1922. Their cases were appealed and finally reached the United States supreme court, which ruled against them.

The sentences are: George Remus, two years in Atlanta Penitentiary and $10,000 fine; Harry W. Brown, George Connors, John Gehrmann, Clem L. P. Herbes, Charles Wiseman and George Dater 18 months and $5,000 fine each; Elmer Roth, 15 months and $5,000 fine; Clarence (Cap) Bell, Ernest A. (Buck) Brady, George Gillenbeck and George King, 15 months at Atlanta and $1,000 fine each; Henry Garding and Harry Boyd, one year and one day and $1,000 fine each.

A number of nuisance sentences against the men will be enforced after their federal terms have been served.

Remus said today: "The president has an application that has been presented to him for executive clemency for the other men in the case. The evidence does not bear out their conviction from any possible view point," Remus declared.

LID BLOWN OFF LEASING OF OIL RESERVE LANDS

Startling Revelations Made
By Archie Roosevelt
Before Committee

Washington, Jan. 22.—The lid was blown off Teapot Dome today.

Criminal prosecution of some of the persons involved in the leasing of the great naval oil reserve by ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to Harry F. Sinclair was declared to be probable as a result of the startling revelations made to the Senate public lands committee by Archie Roosevelt, son of the late president, and G. D. Wahlberg, both of whom have resigned from Sinclair's employ because of "suspicion of corruption," in connection of the leases.

"Of course, the department of justice is investigating," Rush L. Holman, assistant attorney general said today. "We shall certainly seek criminal prosecution if evidence sufficient to warrant such action is unearthed." He admitted that agents of the department were working on the case, but would not say whether this was requested by the committee and he refused to state whether he considered the present revelations sufficient.

Archie Roosevelt, son of the late president and brother of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, told the committee that he resigned his connection with the Sinclair company because he was convinced the lease was corruptly obtained.

He was followed on the witness stand by W. D. Wahlberg, Harry Sinclair's right-hand confidential man, who told the committee he intended to forward his resignation from the Sinclair concern, "because he could not longer be happy in Sinclair's employment."

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, also a witness, testified that he had advised his brother to resign from the Sinclair company after Archie had told him of a conversation with Wahlberg, in which the latter had advised the same thing. He told the committee that he brought his brother to testify to circumstances revealed in that conversation, which involved the charge that $58,000 had been paid by Sinclair to Secretary Fall's ranch forman. Archie Roosevelt stated that Wahlberg told him he had seen canceled checks for that amount.

Sinclair sailed several days ago for Europe. Archie Roosevelt told the committee that he bought the steamer tickets at Sinclair's request and was directed by Sinclair not to allow his name to be placed on the passenger list. This testimony created a profound sensation.

Officials in every department of the government were completely astounded by the Roosevelt testimony, which has involved the administration in the greatest government scandal since the noted Bailew-Pinchot controversy during the Taft administration.

The committee will pursue the matter further by examining the check stubs and books of the Sinclair Oil company and its associated enterprises. They are to be produced before the committee by General Counsel Stanford of the Sinclair interests.

Roosevelt's Testimony.

Archie Roosevelt in the course of his testimony said:

"Mr. Wahlberg called me up last Friday and said he would like to see me. We had been friends for quite a while. He came into my office and shut the door. He said he had some advice he wanted to give me. We had a two hours' conversation. He said he wished I would resign from the Sinclair companies; that I had a name and reputation which I should guard very jealously. He said he was unhappy in his employment with Sinclair, and that he was unhappy to see me in the same position.

"We talked over the situation and I asked him whether he thought Sinclair had bribed Secretary Fall. He hesitated—a nasty word, bribed—and he said: 'I think somebody might have lent Mr. Fall money.'

"Then I asked him why it was that Mr. Sinclair was leaving the city, going abroad. He shook his head and said that it must be on account of the findings of Senator Walsh on his trip to Palm Beach. Then he said that leaving him alone in New York, he was afraid he would be forced to expose other things; that undoubtedly he would be expected to 'lie' about certain things; that one of the things which worried him was a payment of $58,000 made to Secretary Fall's ranch forman. He said he had seen the canceled checks.

"This, of course, was the thing that took my breath away. I phoned my brother, Ted, and wrote him a letter. I told him the whole thing as I have told it here to you. He told me to come here to Washington and go before the committee, that that was the only thing to do."

"More dishonest statements, mis-statements, if not absolute falsehoods, have been handed out at the treasury department of the United States for the purpose of misleading the public than ever were issued by a public department in my recollection of government."

FINANCIAL DRIVE LAUNCHED MONDAY AT LEAGUE BANQUET

A financial drive for $5,500 to carry on the work of the Social Service League for the coming year, was launched at the annual League banquet, at the First Reformed Church, Monday night.

More than two hundred persons attended the banquet, and the auditorium of the church was filled during the reports of the officials. The organization, known as the "Dusty" Miller, Wilmington newspaper man and humorist, delivered the principal address. The women of the First Reformed Church served a delicious repast at six o'clock, to the large number of patrons of the league.

Karl R. Babb, was elected president of the Social Service League for the coming three years. It was reported by the past president, the Rev. V. F. Brown, at the business session held in the auditorium, following the banquet. Dr. B. R. McClellan was re-elected vice president with the following assistants: Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Miss Bertha Trebein, Mrs. H. L. Sayre, Mrs. Emma McCalmont, Miss Carrie Hynes, Mrs. C. L. Spencer, Mrs. W. B. Chew, Mrs. E. R. Bryant, Mrs. O. Hale, secretary, Miss Charlie Santmyer and treasurer, F. F. Keyes.

An idea of the breadth of the work of the League, was gained by the audience, in the report of Mrs. L. R. Robertson, executive secretary, the first feature of the business session. She gave interesting statistics of the number, and kind of cases handled, named organizations with which the league had co-operated, and the various branches of service given.

Miss Jennie Moffett, Social Service League public health nurse, also gave a report of her seven-months' service. Both reports were enlivened with details of several cases which had come before the workers during the year.

Mrs. A. M. Patterson was spokesman for the Committee on Nominations, composed of Dr. Patterson, Mrs. Mary M. Meredith and Mrs. W. H. Cherry, in the absence of Dr. Patterson. She read the following tribute to the work of Mrs. Robertson, voiced by the committee: "May we take a few minutes time to express our appreciation of Mrs. Robertson's work. Only those of us who have been associated with her really know how eminently fitted she is for the work she is doing. She is so gentle, and tactful, to those who come to her for help, and at the same time so wise and so firm, so conscientious and deeply interested, so quiet and patient with every one with whom she comes in contact that it seems as if she must be a helpful influence and so, more than fills the position as a secretary. We are certainly fortunate to have someone to carry on the relief work in Xenia so faithfully and so successfully. It is a pleasure to express our appreciation of Mrs. Robertson, and to wish her continued success."

The sentiment of the workers and general public is that the successful past year of the League, has been gained through the co-operation and guidance of Mrs. Robertson and the Rev. V. F. Brown, who has served as president of the organization for four years. High appreciation of the Rev. Mr. Brown's services is felt by the members of the board. The Rev. Mr. Brown introduced Mr. Babb, the new president of the organization, to the audience, and Mr. Babb spoke briefly of the aid that was owed the league by the public.

"The spirit of the folks makes up the town," was the substance of the humorous address given by Mr. Miller, as the closing feature of the program. The spirit of doing, and community spirit were urged by the speaker in his address on "Neighbors and Friends." "Don't make excuses for your town. Life is a sum of situations and attitudes and it is just as much of a success to accept situations as it is to create them."

"The best wish I could have for Xenia," the speaker declared, "is that every one citizen would do what he would, when he don't have to as he would if he had to. There are three 'ins' that will keep you 'out'—they are 'indecision,' 'indifference,' and 'intolerance.' A good citizen is one who appreciates the ratio of importance between himself and other people. Getting along with other people is the biggest element in success and citizenship. Your success depends on the measure of the service you give to the world. Put more in than you take out," he told his hearers.

"There are three kinds of folks in Xenia, the 'poor me's,' the 'who me's' and the 'count me's.' Another secret of success is participation of everyone. You have to serve your fellow men before you can serve God."

Mrs. James Wilson, III, chairman of the financial drive which was launched with the annual meeting, made a short announcement at the close of the meeting and said that everyone in Xenia would be asked to contribute a definite sum to the league. A large corps of workers will assist Mrs. Wilson during the drive.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Read How Mrs. Walsh Was Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mannington, West Virginia.—"I took the Vegetable Compound when having the turn of life. I had been sick for seven years. I would get a little better, then I broke down again. It would be hard for me to describe how I was, for I was a perfect wreck. I suffered with a pain in my left side, then I would have numb spells and I would think I couldn't live. I would have hot flashes, then would come weak spells. I was so weak I would think I couldn't ever get a meal ready. My work was a burden to me. I was not able to do my housework half of the time. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has given me strength and health. The hot flashes left me and I got better of the numb spells. That summer I could do my housework and worked in the garden a good bit. I tell all sick women what your wonderful medicine did for me, and will always recommend it. I was born in Marion County and still live in it. I am known to all my neighbors, and you can publish this statement because it is true."

REQUEST THAT PIKE BE PAVED BY THIS COUNTY IS REFUSED

John A. North, president of the Greene County Board of Commissioners, member of the roads committee assisting the Dayton Chapter, National Aeronautical Association to make plans for the 1924 Pulitzer air races in Dayton, took part in a discussion of road conditions with other committee members in the office of Chas. H. Paul, president of the Miami Conservancy District, Dayton, Monday.

Based on decision of the committee to route traffic to the races over the Dayton and Springfield pike and over the Valley pike on the return trip, the committee asked Commissioner North if Greene County would repair the eight or nine miles of the Dayton and Springfield pike lying in Greene County. They were told that Greene County had no money for such an expenditure.

The section of the pike which lies in Greene County, passing through Fairfield, and which will be widely used by visitors going to the air races, is the only unimproved section as the sections in Montgomery and Clark counties will not need repairing. Because Greene County will have no money to spend on the improvement, the committee will send a delegation to Columbus next week to confer with the State Highway Department officials with regard to state aid on the section. All three Greene County Commissioners will be in the party.

"The Columbus pike and the Cincinnati pike will be given consideration by the commissioners here before we attempt paving the section in question," said Mr. North Tuesday. "Our appropriations for this year call for improvement of the Columbus pike to the county line and next year we propose to improve the Cincinnati pike. Both of these are main market roads and valuable means of ingress to Xenia. The Dayton and Springfield road does Xenia no good, because it is used by people going to Dayton, and its improvement cannot benefit us, especially since more important roads demand the improvement first. I told Dayton members of the committee it would be more to the advantage of Dayton to put the road in good condition than it would be for Xenia. Even after the new air field is established in Greene County, Dayton will derive practically all of the benefits."

A meeting of the finance committee for the races was also held Monday afternoon, with the result it was decided to raise $150,000 for the promotion of the races. Practically all of this amount has been guaranteed. Cash prizes will total from $25,000 to $50,000.

William Fox, of this city, was engineer on the train, which was traveling east toward the Union Station. Brown was driving north on Mount St. and it is believed the closed auto kept him from hearing the approaching train. The victim was hurled through the top of the coupe, and was unconscious when picked up and taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where attaches believe he has a fractured skull.

William Hutcheson, Springfield, was conductor on the train.

REGRETS SUSPENSION

"The Ohio Bell Telephone Company regrets the suspension by the Public Utilities Commission of the new schedule of toll rates filed by the Company on December 1, 1923, to become effective January 21, 1924. C. P. Cooper, president of the company, said in a statement issued Saturday 1924.

"Operations of the toll property during recent years, particularly during 1923, have shown quite clearly that the present toll rates are inadequate and that additional revenue is necessary to provide for operating expenses and for a return on the value of the property used."

TO HOLD MARKET TO PAY EXPENSES

Public support is asked for the market that will be held by the Federated Parent-Teacher Association, of the Xenia public schools, next Saturday, to help pay for the daily luncheons of milk and wafers to 230 children of the McKinley school. The McKinley Parent-Teacher Association has been unable to meet the expense of the feeding. Only one-half of the children pay for the food. The luncheons cost the P. T. A. $40 a week.

The Federated Association agreed to buy shoes for boys, in the schools, who are given physical instruction every Saturday, by Professor A. J. Black at a meeting held Monday afternoon. The boys are also in need of 40 gym suits and several gym mats, according to Mr. Black, and these the organization will attempt to purchase.

The organization is making an effort to secure Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of schools, to address a mass meeting, here February 7.

Mrs. J. J. Stout, treasurer of the Federated P. T. A. reported that the organization now has $143.63 in the bank.

Mrs. E. E. Jones, 453 South Monroe Street, will leave Wednesday or Thursday for Los Angeles, Calif., where her son, Marion R. Jones, is confined to a hospital suffering from serious injuries received in a street car accident last Friday.

Mr. Jones was crushed through the hips and one arm was broken in two places, when cars on a city line, on which he was employed as motorman, collided. An answer to a wire sent for further information was an appeal for some member of his family to come to his bedside. Mrs. Marion Jones and their little girl, are in Los Angeles.

CHILD LABOR WEEK URGED

Columbus, O. Jan. 22—"Children are our greatest asset. Upon their proper development, physical, moral, intellectual—depends the future of our nation," asserted Governor Donahay today, in a proclamation, urging Ohioans to observe the week of January 27 as "child labor week."

The governor urged that churches take up the subject of child labor on Sunday January 27th and that schools take it up in class the following Monday. He also asked that civic clubs and citizen committees discuss the subject throughout the week, with a view to submission of an amendment to the constitution regulating child labor.

WINCHESTERS TO MEET CEDARVILLE COLLEGE FIVE AT CENTRAL HIGH GYM THURSDAY NIGHT

Xenia basketball fans who have been starved for a contest of the independent brand this season because the independent teams have no place to play, may gorge themselves Thursday night when the Babb Winchester team will meet the Cedarville College Varsity at Central High Gym.

Owing to the unsuccessful football season last fall the Central High Athletic Association is in need of funds, and was glad to accept the offer of the Winchester team to donate their services to the cause. The game will be played under the auspices of the athletic board of the schools and all proceeds will be given over to the athletic association.

The meeting will undoubtedly be of considerable interest in court circles here. The Winchester team have been putting up a good brand of ball on foreign courts but have never had an opportunity to display their wares before a local crowd. The team has been considerably strengthened of late, and is even better now than before.

Cedarville College has also been putting up a fair brand of the court game. Larry Currie and Walker Taylor two former Central High stars are playing with the Cedarville combination, and this will give local bugs an opportunity to see the old time favorites in action.

There will be a preliminary game in which the Central Junior High five will take part with some other good kid team, the preliminary to start at seven o'clock. The main mill will get under way at eight o'clock. Lawrence Rachford, veteran official will handle the game.

The Winchester travel to Kingman Wednesday night to meet the crack Kingman professional team, including a number of former high school stars.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out of skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

Ed Fogwell, Osborn race horse trainer, formerly of Xenia, is said to have been offered a farm recently for his two pacers, Al Jennings and Al Blingen.

"A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds," wrote Bacon in one of his essays.

We will concede that Bacon was a wise man—wise enough in his day to make more opportunities than he could possibly find by the most minute search.

But we'd like to see him come back to earth today and make more opportunities than any child can find with ease in the A-B-C Classified Section!

In Bacon's day they didn't have any place in which were assembled all the opportunities of a community.

HEART TROUBLE IS FATAL TO LEADER OF THE COMMUNISTS

soviet leader of the Third International, and a member of the Communist executive committee, Stalin, Peoples' commissar for minorities (nationalities) in the soviet government; and Leon Kamenev, third vice president of the council, are virtually in power. They are leading the Communist "old guard" against the hostile faction under Trotsky.

For six years, Lenin was practically dictator of Russia. Allied powers waged war against him but without success. His notable military failure was the war against Poland when Poland was saved by French troops.

Lenin's real family name was Vladimir Ilyich Ulyanov. He came of a noble family but was banished from Russia because of his Nihilist (Socialist) principles. He spent part of his life in Prussia and Switzerland. He was living in Switzerland during the world war.

In 1917 when the Russian government was tottering, Germany allowed Lenin and a few colleagues to pass through the country in a sealed train. At that time the czar, Nicholas, had been overthrown. Alexander Kerensky was in power and Russia was still waging war against Germany. But the "councils" in the army and navy had weakened their strength and Germany saw a chance for a bloodless coup. Lenin and his adherents arrived from Switzerland about the same time that Trotsky arrived from the United States. They started their red revolution in Petrograd and after fighting the Moderates under Kerensky were put down. Lenin and Trotsky came into power.

The following year (1918) they negotiated a treaty of peace with Germany at Brest-Litovsk. This treaty was bitterly denounced by the Allies and later by the Russians themselves but they abided by it and from that time on Russia ceased to be a factor in the world war.

Foreign statesmen united in admitting that Lenin was not only one of the most spectacular figures Europe has produced in the past century but one of the most powerful. From his retreat in the Kremlin he issued orders that were obeyed by the proletariat, not only in his own country was announced today.

Lenin was married but had no family.

SEEKS CITIZENSHIP PAPERS IN COURT

So far only one alien in Greene County has certified his intention to Harvey Elam, clerk of courts, to take the examination in April preparatory to becoming a citizen of the United States.

He is M. A. Bailey, Xenia, R. 6, a native of England, who came to this country in 1906. W. H. Kepler and R. E. Horen were named in his declaration of intent and preliminary papers as witnesses to the integrity of his purpose.

Raymond F. Crist, commissioner of naturalization, has advised Clerk of Courts Elam that World War veterans who wish to take advantage of the special inducements made to them to become citizens, should know they expire March 3, 1924. The law made special offers for aliens who served with American troops, this period of grace to extend until one year after all American soldiers had been withdrawn from overseas. The last troops returned March 3, 1923.

The special concessions were made by an act of Congress approved July 19, 1918. The law authorizes the naturalization of World War veterans who have served in the military or naval forces of the United States with out complying with many of the usual requirements for naturalization, such as declaration of intention, proof of five years' residence in the United States, payment of the customary $4 filing fee, and the usual 90 day wait from the date of filing the petition to the date of final hearing. As a condition to naturalization under this special statute, the applicant must appear before a Naturalization Examiner with his honorable discharge and two identifying witnesses for preliminary examination.

Ex-service men who wish to take advantage of the statute before its expiration, may learn what naturalization officer to consult by inquiring of Clerk of Courts Elam.

NIGHT IN THE FOREST
Chapter 71

Lee rested the canoe for a minute against his bended knee and then swung it firmly over his head and let it come down slowly with the paddles resting across his shoulders.

"Wait a second! I can slip the sleeves of my sweater under the edge of the paddles and make it more comfortable," Hope suggested standing in front of him and looking up solicitously.

"No! It's all right," he answered almost gruffly.

"But I don't want to wear the sweater anyway," she answered. "Here! Like this!" and she smoothed the sweater carefully over his shoulders as he shifted the weight of the canoe for a minute.

He felt her hands like electric currents as they touched him.

"Now we must hurry!" she declared, picking up the lantern and his traveling bag.

But Lee did not move. He was wondering if it were possible for him to feel such a vibrating communication from her touch if there was not some strength of feeling for him in her heart. He was trying to argue with himself that it was impossible to get a contact of power like that unless both sources were charged. But instead of saying what he felt he said something very different.

"I don't want you to have to carry that traveling bag of mine. It's too heavy! Leave it here! I'll not take it."

"Please—please hurry! and don't be foolish," she returned.

"But I'll not let you do it. You—you never let me do things for you," he insisted.

She smiled a pleading little smile, came back and stood in front of him with the yellow light from the lantern lighting up their faces.

"You have done something for me. And—I—I can't thank you, or talk about it; that's why I want to do this thing for you now. I want you to go back to—Cynthia, and be happy. But come! Please believe me, and— we must hurry," she entreated.

Then he turned from him and holding the lantern so that it's bright rays would light up the path for him she hurried on ahead down the road.

And as they went on they did not speak again and the blackness of the night seemed to close in about them and draw them intimately together. Hope walked ahead holding Lee's bag in one hand and the lantern in the other while Lee followed with the canoe—the yellow light making a dancing circle in which they moved forward together. About them the blackness of the woods and the silence of the night seemed to be waiting in a strange sort of expectant hush.

At first Lee felt almost rebellious. It seemed to him as if Hope was urging him to go when he did not want to. Then after a while, as the wonders of the silent night closed in about them together in the forest, a strange feeling of contentment, crept over him. He forgot what the end of the trail would mean, and thought only of the present and that Hope was with him. He had a feeling that it was never going to end, this strange journey of their's together.

Then suddenly Hope stopped and turned to him, speaking softly as if she too felt the intimacy of it all and was loath to break the silence.

"We must strike through the woods here. I'll hold the lantern so you can see—but go carefully. It's quite steep," she whispered.

Together they broke through the thick under brush at the edge of the road and started slowly down a steep sort of gully.

"Can't you hear the rush of the water over the falls? Going in this way we'll reach the river where it narrows after the rapids and becomes deep enough for the canoe," she said, pausing for a brief second.

Tomorrow—Onward Together.

CITY AND TRACTION COMPANY AGREE

Akron, O., Jan. 22.—As a result of over Sunday conferences by Mayor D. C. Rybolt, A. C. Blinn, general manager of the Northern Ohio Traction Company, and Dr. H. E. MacAyeal, chairman of a citizens' committee, the deadlock between the city and the traction company appears to have been broken.

While the latter holds out for increase in the fares, seven cents cash being its ultimatum, and the city council is backing its ordinance for a five cent fare, it is understood an arrangement has been effected between the mayor and Mr. Blinn, whereby a five cent fare will continue pending further negotiations looking to an adjustment upward which will prove satisfactory to all parties concerned.

TALKS TO PUPILS

Dr. George A. Hubbell, president of the University of Asheville, North Carolina, gave an interesting talk to the pupils of Beavercreek High School, at the chapel exercises, Monday morning, and also conducted the devotionals. The points emphasized in the address were reliability, and adaptability. Dr. Hubbell has been spending the week end with his brother Frank Hubbell, of Alpha.
